COL. I. W. BURNHEIM OUT FOR COX AND LEAGUE

Lifelong Republican Calls League The World's Holiest Possession

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 18.—"Next to my religion came my deep attachment for the Republican party, but I shall have to forget my past record and vote this time for the Democratic Presidential standard bearer" declared Mr. I. W. Burnheim in a statement Saturday. Mr. Burnheim has always been a liberal contributor to Republican funds and is one of the leading philanthropists of the state. He recently gave the city of Louisville a statue of Abraham Lincoln to be placed in Central Park and is also the donor of the Thomas Jefferson statue at the Jefferson County Court House.

Mr. Bernheim's Statement

The statement of Mr. Bernheim follows:

"I have been a Republican down in the so-called Gibraltar District of Kentucky's democracy for more than half a century. In fact, I have been a Republican when in McCracken County they were known only as 'Black Radicals.'

"Next to my religion came my deep attachment to the Republican party, but I shall have to forget my past record and vote this time for the Democratic Presidential standard bearer, solely because my conscience won't permit me by my vote to confirm the acts of our Republican leaders, who committed the crime of playing politics when an impoverished and starving world was looking to us for guidance and leadership.

"In the Spanish-American War we became the owners of Cuba, the choicest piece of real estate in the entire world. We surrendered it to the rightful owners in the fullness of time and thereby furnished to the world an object lesson in unselfishness unmatched in modern or ancient history.

"We entered the World War in the same unselfish and noble spirit.

"We asked for neither territory nor compensation.

"We made untold sacrifices. Our best blood was sent overseas, and many of our heroic dead are resting in foreign soil.

Past Holiest Possession

"Thanks to the heroism of our boys and the wonderful resourcefulness of our people, we finished the task and did it well. At the conclusion of the armistice we became by unanimous consent of the world its leaders. The hundreds of millions of human beings—unhappy, impoverished and starving, looked upon us as their big brother. Providence had showered upon us everything needful for the task, including boundless wealth, and selected us as "The Moses to bring the children of Israel out of Egyptian slavery and darkness."

"But a narrow leadership in the Republican party has trampled underfoot the world's holiest possession, the League of Nations, the pact which foreshadowed, perhaps in as yet an imperfect and crude way, the time when

"They shall beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

The suffering of the world has in the meantime measurably increased since that November day of 1918.

Death Holds High Carnival

"Death and poverty continue to hold high carnival in some of the fairest portions of Europe and the end is not yet. On the contrary, the coming winter promises to break all records in disease and death and suffering and want for the necessities of life, all because the Republican party allowed itself to be led by a selfish, greedy and criminally narrow leadership—a leadership which has almost destroyed the fruits of the war and has laid us open and perhaps justly to the charge of cowardice.

"I am for the League of Nations because back of it stands the American principle of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for all the downtrodden of every clime.

"Our people have put their hands to the plow and we shall not turn back."

NONPARTISAN SCHOOL BOARD TO BE ELECTED

In this and every other county in Kentucky November 2 will be held an election designed to revolutionize the rural school system of the state. On that date the voters of each county will elect a County Board of Education composed of 5 members from the county at large and besides the present duties the new board will have the very important duty of appointing a County School Superintendent.

The intention of this new law is to take the county school system out of politics and the educational forces of the state have been urging through the press that each county elect a nonpartisan Board.

The members of this Board, two of whom serve for one year, one for two years, one for three years and one for four years, are elected on a separate ballot containing no party devices. They are nominated by petition. Citizens of graded school districts are not permitted to vote for these trustees.

Acting upon the principle of the new law, voters desiring a nonpartisan Board have petitioned that the following citizens be placed upon the ballot in November: Mrs. W. O. Read, Horse Branch; W. S. Hill, Cerval; R. A. (Lon) Owen, Hartford, R. 6; Nat Lindley, Centertown, R. 1; and Claud Renfrow, Dundee. These citizens were selected because of their deep interest in better schools and in educational progress generally. This is a case of the office seeking the citizen and not the citizen seeking the office, as most of these candidates have not yet been notified of their selection. Some are Democrats and some Republicans.

These names along with any others that have been properly petitioned will be placed upon the ballot in a single column and each voter from the rural districts will be permitted to vote for 5 candidates.

N. D. FULKERSON DEAD

Mr. N. D. Fulkerson died at his residence near Equality, Monday Oct. 18, at 7:30 a. m., after a lengthy illness of a complication of diseases. He was 63 years old last Jan. 8th, and was one of the most prominent and respected citizens of the county. He has been a member of the Baptist church for many years and at the time of his death was a Deacon in the Smallhouse Baptist church. In 1905 he became a member of the Masonic Lodge and lived a consistent member until the end. In politics he was a staunch Democrat. He was given a Masonic burial Tuesday afternoon. The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. R. E. Fuqua.

The 27 pies sold brought $15. 55 or an average of nearly 60c apiece. A program consisting of recitations, etc. was rendered and everyone had a jolly good time.

INFANT DEAD

HARDING DODGES

GOV. COX'S CHALLENGE

Head of G. O. P. Speakers Calls

Request for Joint Debate

"Absurd"

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 15.—Senator Warren G. Harding will not debate with Gov. James M. Cox on "The League of Nations."

"I would not for a moment consider a proposition so utterly absurd," Senator Harry S. New, head of the Republican Speakers' Bureau, said here last night in reply to the proposal of Senator Pat Harrison, Democratic Speaking Bureau chairman.

Neither the chairman of the G. O. P. Speaking Bureau or other members of the party who were here last night with Mr. Harding would discuss the subject in detail. It was said, however, that Mr. New's opinion is concurrent with that of the Republican nominee.

Challenge

The challenge as issued by Mr. Harrison Wednesday, is, as follows:

"In order that the public may arrive at the truth in the issues between Governor Cox and Senator Harding on the League of Nations, I respectfully propose to you that Mr. Harding meet Mr. Cox in joint debate on the subject at any time and place convenient to him and you. Mr. Cox has said, 'I favor going in.' In his speech in DesMoines Mr. Hard ing said 'I stand for rejection.'

"That the people may make up their minds after mature consideration of this great issue, such a joint debate as I propose will be a most effective means of bringing out the facts.

"As chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the Democratic National Committee I should be glad to cancel any dates or arrangements already made in Mr. Cox's itinerary in order to accommodate such a joint debate."

COBB ON HARDING

Irving S. Cobb, the famous author and humorist, paints the following picture of Harding:

"Harding is a docile, well behaved, kindly soul who'll never rock the boat. He's a composite picture of all the statesmen who ever lived and would do justice to any wax figure manufacturer. He's really a very handsome stuffed shirt. To the roots of his hair he resembles Henry Clay, but there the resemblance stops. If he ever finds a good danduff cure he'll lose his political standing. Why was he nominated? Why, because he looked like he ought to be, and he's from a State that breeds a race of men that look like statesmen and run for President. He never had an original thought in his life and wouldn't know what to do with one if he had it until he had consulted Penrose. If he happened on to one he would take it before his chief and laying it at his feet would say, I, too, have been idle. Here is an idea. What shall I do with it?

"He is smart enough to keep his mouth shut and stupid enough to make the dullest most non-committal speech a politican ever tried to make. But he makes it with such an air that it doesn't seem dull until you think it over and find that he didn't say a thing."

COX FAVORITE IN STRAW VOTE

A straw vote on the Presidential candidates taken at the Louisville and Nashville office building, Ninth Street and Broadway, Louisville, resulted as follows:

Local Freight Office	Harding

Car Accountant's Office	7
Auditor Of Disbursements	14

WILL VOTE FOR COX

One of the few living Americans who voted for Abraham Lincoln will be found voting the straight Democratic ticket this year. "Wise men change their minds" said L. H. German, 86 years old, 674 South Fifth Street, Louisville, Ky. "I voted for Lincoln, and for Grant, and for every Republican president up to Cleveland. From Mr. Cleveland's time I have voted the Democratic ticket, and I intend to vote for Cox and Roosevelt."

REPUBLICAN LEADERS

DESERT PARTY RANKS

Misrepresentation of League of Nations Forcing Voters Into Democratic Column

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 16.—Evidence of defection of voters from Republican and Progressive ranks into the Democratic column are being received daily at the Kentucky Democratic Headquarters. The latest of these was contained in a letter from Chas. W. Faber, of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. Faber calls himself a Cox Republican. He is so interested in the League of Nations that he has offered to distribute one hundred thousand copies of Prof. Irving Fisher's article on "Reasons why you should vote for Cox and Roosevelt." These articles are to be distributed to the campaign committees in Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia. They are written by a Republican with a special appeal to Republicans, Independents and Progressive voters. Mr. Faber writes that though a Republican he is heart and soul for the League of Nations, and is going the limit by giving away free of charge this campaign literature.

Another evidence of straying away from Republican ranks is the case of Mrs. Evelyn Sneed Barnett, wife of Ira S. Barnett, of Louisville, Ky. Mr. Barnett is a Republican election officer. His wife has declared for the League of Nations, an dis making speeches in the interest of the Democratic ticket. She asserts that the Republicans stand on the League question proves it is morally bankrupt.

Even to the Tiniest Leak

YOU can't afford to let any of that golden cream escape in the milk. If you know where the leak is you are going to stop it. We can show you how the Primrose stops the tiniest leak.

The Primrose Cream Separator skins clean—to the very last drop. It is simplicity itself in operation. The Primrose is the only cream separator which doesn't obstruct the cream outlets in the bowl with a cream screw.

Running quickly over a few of the other high spots—substantial supply can, heavy tinware, close-skimming bowl, highest grade material, simple driving mechanism, all parts oiled by splash from supply in gear case, sanitary frame.

There are several exclusive features whose values are obvious on a demonstration. We want to explain every one, and show how they all tend to save that valuable cream to the last valuable drop.

You are in the dairy business to make money. You need the warm skim milk for feeding. Let the Primrose help you. The size of your herd in no way affects the ratio of profit. The Primrose saves on the gallon—you can figure out your profits.

Dear Editor:

My subscription has long since expired and you have erased my name from your books. But I have not forgotten the Herald; neither have I forgotten Ohio County. I have so long been used to receiving my papers on exchange that when I do subscribe for an occasional one how easy is it to forget to renew. Here is five dollars and do not forget to put my name on your list at once.

For twenty years my work has been outside of Kentucky, most of the time living in this western Pennsylvania town, where half the people speak tongue other than ours. My fight against the liquor traffic is won and so my life is now devoted to building up the shattered remains of what is generally left on in the financial world who has spent his life fighting John Barleycorn. He had most of us guessing where our bread would come from, but bless God his old bones now lie quietly where they will remain undisturbed for centuries.

Yours very sincerely,

UPHOLDS LEADERS IT RECENTLY CONDEMNED

Louisville Herald, G. O. P. Organ Strongly Denounces Republican Leaders

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 16.—The Louisville Herald, which has now become the organ of the Republican Party in Kentucky, in its present campaign, has reversed its position in exactly twelve months.

One year ago, or to be exact, November 24th, 1919, the Louisville Herald deplored the slaying of the treaty by Republican leaders and condemned the policy of Lodge and the irreconcilables it now upholds. It said in part:

"The outcome of Senator Lodge's fight against the administration brought little comfort to anyone except the irreconcilables. His long and tedious struggle with the treaty and the League of Nation reservations prevented congress from accomplishing many things that had been expected, and resulted only in the humiliation of himself and his party through his failure to procure ratification after he had succeeded in forcing adoption of reservations.

Better Leadership Needed

"Wiser leadership is needed if we are to escape the 'peace by resolution' which Lodge now proposes. His resolution declaring the war at an end, introduced just before adjournment and after he had seen the Versailles treaty voted down, goes over to the December session.

"In the meantime this Lodge resolution must appear to Americans a poor substitute for a treaty of peace dictated in the hour of victory.

"It conveys no intimation of the fact that America participated in a great war against a nation that had grievously offended her and humanity; that she contributed untold wealth and the lives of thousands of her sons to winning it; that she makes peace as a result of the valor of her soldiers and their sacrifices upon the field of battle.

LOSE THE VICTORY

"We, Herald, come on, and tell me how Ohio county is getting along. While it has been many years since I have really visited the county, yet it seems that I would today know every corner in that part of the state. Some day I expect to come back and see for myself once more the spots that are so dear to me to this day.

Yours very sincerely,
W. M. LIKINS.

confronted with an unexpected rupture because of the last minute filing of the nomination papers by James Thompson for Senator. Thompson is a LaFollette Progressive and the effect of his announcement on the Lenroot camp has been like the explosion of a bomb shell.

In Illinois the fight between the Thompson-Lowden faction has become so bitter, that Republican party leaders have asked the rival candidates, John Oglesby and Len Small to patch up a truce for the purpose of the election.

It seems almost certain that these two states will be lost to the Republicans, as will the Dakotas in which the Republican party has been captured by the non-partisan league.

GREEK KING BITTEN BY MONKEY, IS DYING

Ruler's Youth and Vitality Alone Are Relied On to Pull Him Through

Athens, Greece, Oct. 14.—Only the strong constitution of King Alexander of Greece is relied on by his physicians to bring him through the crisis of his illness resulting from the bite of a monkey a short time ago.

It was admitted at the palace today that the King had entered into the critical phase of his illness.

The Government, alarmed at the serious turn in the King's condition, today discussed the question of a regency and decided that the Council of Ministers would take up the task of administering the country in the event of the King's condition becoming worse.

Today's statement, made at 1 o'clock this afternoon, was the first intimation that the physicians in attendance were relying only on the strong constitution of King Alexander, who is but 27 years old, to save him.

SOVIET RULE IN RUSSIA NEAR END

Washington, Oct. 18.—Signs of the approaching collapse of Bolshevism in Russia are seen by the state department officials in the crumbling of Soviet authority on the Polish front and the rapidly augmenting strength of the anti-bolshevik forces in Southeastern Europe under Gen. Wrangel.

Already consideration is being given to that way follow the end of the Soviet rule in Russia. The prospects of anarchy and chaos in the event of Soviet dissolution is very real, according to officials but the belief was expressed the local Soviets are so well organized as to maintain a semblance of order and some cohesion of economic life until a stable government, capable of obtaining adherence of a majority of the Russian population, shall arise.

That love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician. Love is not, however, the cure for all women. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is now sold by all druggists in the United States in tablets as well as liquid form.

FIRST AID TRAINING TO MEN AND WOMEN

American Red Cross is Teaching Hundreds of Thousands Life- Saving Methods.

The purpose of instruction in First Aid to the injured offered by the American Red Cross is to train men and women to administer First Aid treatment promptly and intelligently when emergencies demand it. First Aid treatment is not intended to take the place of a physician's service. A surgeon should always be summoned as a precautionary measure where there is an injury of any consequence, but when one cannot be secured a few minutes' delay may mean a fatality. In such a case a person trained in First Aid is invaluable not only to the individual, but through him to the community in which he lives.

There is perhaps no way of ascertaining the number of deaths or serious disabilities which result from lack of proper safeguards or prompt emergency treatment. It is safe to assert they number thousands daily. There can be no doubt that the application of First Aid methods to each case would immeasurably lighten the country's toll of suffering and death.

The dissemination of First Aid training and information has already produced a far-reaching and beneficial influence in the prevention of accidents on railroads, in mines and in great industrial concerns.

The benefit of a widespread knowledge of First Aid in the event of a great disaster, such as a train wreck, an explosion, an earthquake, etc., is obvious. Laymen who have had First Aid training can render efficient assistance. Many lives may depend upon such emergency care.

Red Cross First Aid work includes (1) the formation and conduct, through Red Cross chapters, of classes for instruction in accident prevention and First Aid to the injured among men and women in all communities and in every industry; (2) the introduction of courses of instruction in high schools and colleges.

The Red Cross is prepared to supply First Aid books and equipment at reasonable prices.

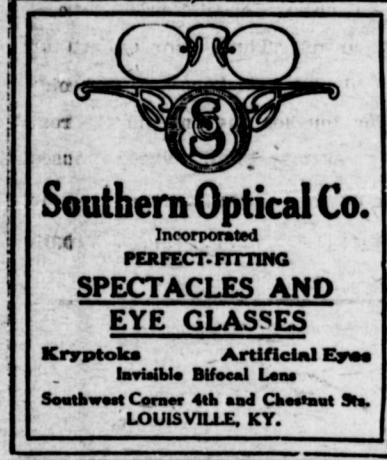

Every person in this country able to do so should, in his own interest, receive Red Cross First Aid instruction. Information about the course and instruction classes may be had at the nearest chapter headquarters.

RED CROSS EXTENDS RELIEF TO POLAND

More than $5,000,000 has been spent by the American Red Cross in aiding the stricken people of Poland. The organization has nursed the sick, fed the starving, clothed the naked, sheltered the homeless, schooled the children and cared for the orphans there. It has conducted a relentless fight against typhus, cholera and other terrible diseases. So today millions of men and women in that resuscitated nation speak in grateful appreciation of "The Greatest Mother in the World."

Nearly 200 American Red Cross workers are now engaged in relief activities in Poland. Four large relief bases are in operation and eleven mobile units are in the field. During the last twelve months this organization was largely instrumental in the re-establishment of a million refugees at a cost for general relief of more than $1,000,000. Last winter one-half million war orphans were aided materially, and since then a series of large orphanages have been established to give them permanent care.

But for American Red Cross aid, officials of Poland declared recently, millions of people in that country would have perished of disease, exposure or starvation the last eighteen months. And the work there must be kept up for another year.

ALICE JOYCE

Of all the reigning favorites of the early motion pictures, Alice Joyce alone shines as a star today. With such notable plays as Charles Klein's "The Lion and the Mouse" and "The Third Degree," the famous Drury Lane melodrama, "The Sporting Duchess," Rex Beach's story, "The Vengeance of Durand," and "Slaves of Pride" as her mediums, Miss Joyce has entered an era of steadily increasing popularity. She occupies a place among the rulers of the screen.

RESEMBLE ACRES OF LILIES

Visitor's Beautiful Description of the American Cemeteries in France —Exquisite in Uniformity.

Though American relatives usually want to plant flowers on the graves of their sons or brothers in the American army cemeteries in France, an army ruling forbidding this has been adhered to. The cemeteries, a uniform stretch of green grass with white crosses, look like "acres of white lilies," according to Miss Elsie Goddard, a Wellesley graduate who has returned to this country after having had supervision of the Y. W. C. A. rest huts built for the comfort of relatives visiting the graves in four of the American cemeteries in France. "At first every one wants to plant flowers on the grave they love," says Miss Goddard, "but they soon see that the army ruling keeps the cemeteries most beautiful and impressive because of the uniformity. Cut flowers can be placed on graves and flowers can be planted in the flower beds near by, but not on the graves. The French people who are eager to decorate the graves in some parts are often surprised at this ruling, but our cemeteries, as cared for, are wonderfully impressive. After visiting them few Americans want to take the bodies of their boys home, though they have been determined to do it before they came." The Y. W. C. A. and Red Cross combine in maintaining rest huts at Romagne, Bony, Belleau Woods and Fere-en-Tardenois. "No matter how prepared a mother and father are for what they expect to see, the first sight of the field of American graves overwhelms them," says Miss Goddard.

The benefit of a widespread knowledge of First Aid in the event of a great disaster, such as a train wreck, an explosion, an earthquake, etc., is obvious. Laymen who have had First Aid training can render efficient assistance. Many lives may depend upon such emergency care.

In 1900, when the Roosevelt expedition went to Africa on the greatest of all safaris, by the dropping out of the professional photographer, Kermit Roosevelt suddenly was thrust into the position of official photographer to the expedition. I viewed this arrangement with many misgivings—because it was a task for maturity and long experience—but the young man made good. He made good 100 per cent, not only with the big game rifle, but in wild animal photography as well.

Mr. Kermit's masterpiece is his best picture of a whole herd of elephants in a high but rather open forest, William Hornaday writes in Scribner's. The light was none too good, but fortunately it was good enough. This real achievement was scored from a perch on a low limb of a tree, conveniently placed to drop the intervening brush out of view. Five tuskers appear in the front line, and the elephants are massed together in the composition as neatly and perfectly as if the hand of man had grouped them to get all the flankers into the picture.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt was very proud of this picture, and so were the editors of Scribner's magazine and the "African Game Trail" book.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For President JAMES M. COX
For Vice President FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT
For U. S. Senator J. C. W. BECKHAM
For Congress BEN JOHNSON

To vote the straight Democratic ticket stamp a cross under the Rooster.

Theodore R. Trunnell, of Christian County, a life long Republican, has written to the Kentucky Democratic State Headquarters, inclosing a campaign contribution with a letter which states that he is unable to swallow the present Republican candidate and will vote the Democratic state and national ticket.

High praise for the leader of the Democrats for the past eight years has come from the pen of two Republican leaders. Mrs. Christine Bradley South of Frankfort, and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Ohio, have signed an endorsement giving Woodrow Wilson credit for achieving the triumph of the "votes for women" cause.

In a pamphlet entitled "The Colored American and the Campaign Issues" sent out by the Republican National Committee, the Republican party makes a special appeal to the negro vote. They attack the Democratic party because it claims to be the white man's party. This charge the Democrats acknowledge without any dispute.

Republican leaders of Madison county must have been well pleased with the speaking at the court house one night last week, when a negro woman of Winchester, spoke to a large gathering. In urging the negro women to go to the polls she declared that colored servants are on the same footing as white girls who clerk in stores, operate telephone exchanges or otherwise work for a living and should avail themselves of their privilege the same as white women.

The munificent sum of $25,000 awaits Ed Morrow, Teddy Roosevelt, Chas. F. Ogden, or any other of the falsifying Republican orators who can make good their assertion that the League of Nations deprives the United States of any of its sovereignty. This sum has been offered for such proof by the organization of pro-league Independents and Republicans, of which Prof. Irving Fisher is President. Will Hays and George White, the National Committeemen, will be permitted to select the jury of twelve, and if any of our glib Timbuctoo orators can convince them they are telling the truth, they will be given the $25,000.

We confess that we did not report an overflow crowd at the Roosevelt-Morrow rally, and we still stand by our statement. There was a very nice crowd present for a speaking but, for a RALLY dignified by the presence of the governor of our state and the son of a president it was a sham affair. We also confess that we said Gov. Cox was greeted by thousands. The Republican admits that at least 2000 were present. We believe that fully twice as many were present at Beaver Dam as at Hartford, and we have seen a few formations within the past three years. Please refer us to the two reputable Democrats who made such ludicrous statements about the immensity of the crowd at the Republican rally.

The Republican Handbook not only fails to contain a single word of praise or appreciation of the glorious achievements of the American Army in France, but on the contrary it offers an insult to the American service men.

The Republican campaign text book charges that the GOVERNMENT LAVISHED TOO MANY LUXURIES ON THE FOUR MILLION YOUNG AMERICANS who saw service in the World War. It says "The per soldier day expenditures for the United States it was estimated was from four to six times the per soldier day cost of France."

Every American soldier who saw service overseas knows how the French poilus lived. They received five cents a day while the American soldier got a dollar a day. The Republican party thinks a dollar a day is too much. Furthermore, France did not have to transport four million men three thousand miles across the Atlantic Ocean, nor did they have to transport the supplies from the sea ports to the interior as did the American Army. Suppose it did cost from four to six times more per soldier per day to maintain the doughboy than the poilu. Wasn't it worth it? After paying their family allotment and their insurance the doughboy had little enough left with which to indulge in pleasure on the few leaves he enjoyed in France, but even this little seems to rankle if he boasts of the Republican campaign managers.

The last legislature passed a law providing for a nonpartisan Board of Education and the State Dept. of Education since that time has constantly urged through the press and in every other manner possible that the citizens of the several counties elect members of this Board because of their qualifications and not for political reasons. Acting upon the principle a ticket consisting of three Republicans and two Democrats was placed in the field. These men are not bound to anybody and are absolutely free to select whomsoever they choose as School Superintendent. These petitions were signed by Democrats and Republicans alike. On the other hand the present School Superintendent, E. S. Howard, has placed a ticket in the field composed entirely of Republicans who will appoint him as Superintendent if they are elected. Then, not being satisfied with having made it a partisan matter, he went to two of the Republicans on the nonpartisan ticket and attempted to persuade them to withdraw their names from the ballot and we are informed told them that the nonpartisan ticket is composed of three Democrats and two Republicans and that it is a Democratic trick. This only goes to show to what depths that some partisan politicians will go to obtain their ends. Governor Morrow, E. T. Hert, Senator Beckham, Johnson Camden and many other prominent Republican and Democratic leaders of the state have written articles for publication urging that nonpartisan Boards be elected and that the members be citizens who have not promised to support any certain candidate for Superintendent.

COMING STILL

The drift from Republican ranks into the Democratic among the influential men of the East continues.

Monday morning George White Chairman of the Democratic National Committee gave to the public the names of one hundred and twenty-one Republicans and Bull Moosers who will vote for Cox and the League of Nations. In giving their reasons for this position these Republicans say in part:

"True Republican statesmanship would have welcomed and supported the Covenant, would have sought to strengthen rather than to weaken its effective guarantees against aggression. It is now too late to talk of a new association of nations to be created under Republican auspices. The proposal to ask forty-three other nations to scrap the existing league, enter another peace conference and agree on some undefined experiment, can no longer be taken seriously. We urge all Republicans and Progressives to put patriotism above party, to join with us for working for Cox and Roosevelt, and for those candidates who stand clearly and frankly for the ratification of the treaty and adherence to the League."

PAUL WOODWARD TELLS WHY
JESSE BARNES IS TURNCOAT

We have been given full permission to publish the following letter from Mr. Paul Woodward, Mr. Woodward is a son of Mr. W. T. Woodward, of this city, and a brother of Hon. Ernest Woodward, of Louisville.

New Philadelphia, Ohio.
Oct. 16, 1920.

Democratic Headquarters,

Hartford, Ky.

Gentlemen:—I noticed in the Hartford Republican an article from Mr. J. H. Barnes, formerly of your city, stating why he has changed from the Democratic to the Republican party. I am also from your city and was born and reared in your community. I have been here longer than he has and see no reason why he should change his opinion this fall.

He says he is for Harding because he has his fill of the Democratic party. He goes on to give the following reasons: First, by saying that Mr. Palmer has failed to reduce the cost of living. I cannot see what that has to do with Mr. Harding. Mr. Palmer is not running for President. He says that in Ohio we had to tumble out 32c for sugar, $6 to $7 per bu. for potatoes. He says he wondered if the people back home had to pay such prices. I noticed in one of our home town papers that on the same day he wrote this letter that sugar was selling in Hartford for 13c, bacon 33 1/2c, lard 33c. I am enclosing a slip which will show what I paid the same day. Sugar 13c, bacon 45c, lard 22c and flour $1.75.

Of course that has nothing to do with the election of the president, but it shows that my friend from Hartford evidently has some other reason for his letter. THE MAIN REASON, I BELIEVE, IS BECAUSE HE IS WORKING FOR A LARGE GROCERY CONCERN HERE WHICH LOST, IT IS SAID, A GREAT DEAL OF MONEY IN THE SUGAR SLUMP.

He says it is time for a change. I wonder why he fails to say that in the history of our country there has never been a time when things were so good? People are making more money here than they have ever made. In fact, one of the greatest professors of Economics in the United States (a Republican by the way) says that never in the history of our country have wages been so near the buying point.

Barnes says he likes Harding because he never dodges anything and stands like a stone wall. We people here in Ohio don't know yet whether Harding is for or against the League of Nations, whether he is wet or dry or what on earth he stands for. As Senator from this state he has never supported a thing that he did not in some way reverse his opinion. I don't see how he gets that way unless he gets it injected into him from his boss.

He says that under Harding there will be no one man rule. I can't see what that has to do with the question. I can't see how he accuses Cox of a one man rule. He may mean Wilson; if he does, Wilson is not running. His argument is typical of a bunch of men up here who have made fortunes off of the country in time of war and now that if Cox is elected, they may lose their grafting privilege. God knows Cox is for the poor man and Harding has never lifted his finger to the support of an issue to lift humanity forward in progress. As far as being submissive to the will of the majority, we all know in Ohio that Harding is sure submissive to Hays and Barnes and the will of the majority of the Senatorial Oligarchy. The letter shows clear through that Barnes is working some personal motive in not supporting Cox.

Mr. Barnes is a brother-in-law of mine and I know why he talks as he does. He told me that he was going to Hartford to vote if the Republicans would send him a ticket to pay his way home. I also want to say that if they don't send it he won't be there. Maybe he thinks that is what they are doing with that $15,000,000.

Yours,

PAUL WOODWARD.

"INSIDE FARM DOPE"

A COLUMN FOR OHIO COUNTY FARMERS SUPPLIED BY EXTRACTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF AGRICULTURE AND YOUR COUNTY AGENT—ASK YOUR COUNTY AGENT

Items of interest and importance issued from the office of the Dean of Agriculture from time to time to give timely information and report progress.

Editorial
The following definition of a County Agent is quoted from an address delivered before the annual Farm Bureau Conference at Chicago, March 1919, by R. H. Crocheron. Mr. Crocheron comes from California where they have had several years of successful experience in handling Farm Bureau and County Agent work. It is indeed interesting to read what Mr. Crocheron has to say concerning this.

The County Agent

The farm advisor is placed in the county for a specific purpose, which is to extend the knowledge which the agricultural colleges and experiment stations have gained through the intensive research work of the investigators who are behind them. He is the field agent of the agricultural forces of the nation. As such he does not represent the farm bureau nor is he directed by the farm bureau, but rather he is maintained as closely as possible in direct relation with the federal and state governments. This is of the utmost importance.

The value of the farm advisor to the people of the county is in having the unbiased judgment of an official who does not represent a local situation or a local constituency, whose appointment and whose term of office is not dependent upon the favor of local politicians or even of certain influential farmers, but who represents the organized agricultural forces of the government and the knowledge that they have concerning the betterment of rural life. His value to the people is in precise proportion to the extent to which he knows and tells the truth. His only function in that county is to disseminate the subject matter which has been slowly and painstakingly gathered by the agricultural institutions, which, like great factories, are slowly but surely grinding out the product of the knowledge of life. He may advise the farm bureau upon its request as to the procedure which it may best follow. He may co-operate with it and doubtless will co-operate with it on most of the projects that it has under study, but in so doing he must be clearly defined as a governmental official who is working for the benefit of the whole people.

Animal Husbandry1921 Hog Outlook

It seems that there are fewer hogs than one year ago, and evidence of their scarcity is the rise in price to $18 in Chicago. With corn dropping to $1.00 hog production promises to be profitable. It is not too late to add to the spring crop of pigs by breeding another sow or gilt. The outlook is brighter for the hog production in 1921 than it was in 1920.

Heavy Horses

The Experiment Station has just Mares for students' judging work. One of these mares, Marline, has won the Grand Championship for Illinois Bred Percheron at the Illinois State Fair, August 24. The other mare is a full sister and two years old. They are not of the extreme heavy type; but are large enough of their age weighing a little less than 1700 pound each.

Indorses the Beatty Bill in Spirit and Letter in Speech of Acceptance

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 16.—Under the caption "Race must Unite at the Polls" the Toledo Pioneer, a negro paper published the following in a recent issue:

"We will have the moral support of our candidate for the presidency, Senator Warren G. Harding. In his speech of acceptance at Marion when he was notified of his nomination, he spoke out unqualifiedly in favor of the rights of the Colored people. He said:

"I believe the Negro citizens of America should be guaranteed the full enjoyment of all their rights, that they have earned the full measure of citizenship bestowed, that their sacrifices in blood on the battlefields of the republic have entitled them to all freedom and opportunity, all of the sympathy and aid that the American spirit of fairness and justice demands."

"His words are an eloquent endorsement of the spirit and letter of the Beatty bill, the purpose of which was to insure to the Colored people their civil rights by imposing heavy penalties upon those who would deny them these rights. In other words, they would have the

RIGHT TO CHOOSE THE HOTEL AT WHICH THEY MIGHT STOP, THE THEATER WHICH THEY MIGHT ATTEND, OR THE PLACE OF AMUSEMENT AND RECREATION TO WHICH THEY MIGHT GO, WITH NO QUESTIONS ASKED AND NO INSULTS OFFERED.

The burning of the vines destroys blights, leaf-spots, worts, etc., which might be held in the rooting vines until the next crop. It also kills ninety days imprisonment, or both within the discretion of the court. The duty of Colored people living in the counties which present these Colored men as candidates for the General Assembly is to vote for them to a man. With the Beatty bill enacted into law, Colored men and women will be privileged to go where they please, and when this right is enforced the white people will have more respect for you. This is our opportunity, and we must not let it pass."

NEW SCHOOL TAX GIVEN KNOCKOUT

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 15.—The court of appeals Tuesday held invalid the act created by the last General Assembly authorizing a maximum tax levy of 50 cents on $100 for county school purposes, an increase of 20 cents. The decision was given when Appellate Court Judge Sampson overruled the motion to dissolve the injunction granted by the Monroe circuit court in the case of the Thompkinsville Graded school against George W. Jackson. He held that the act violated section 51 of the constitution which pertains to the title. Judges Carroll, Hurt and Settle concurred in the opinion. The knocking out of the new special school law leaves the old law in effect.

Under the old law, now in effect, a special school tax may be levied only when authorized by the vote of citizens of the county.

Later
The decision of the court of appeals Tuesday in the case of the Thompkinsville graded school against George Jackson, in which the court held that the new school law increasing the amount that graded schools can levy does not apply to common schools as at first reported, according to a statement given out by State Supt. George Colvin.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 16.—A significant stray vote taken in Louisville since the opening of the theatrical season shows that the majority of those in the stage profession favor Governor Cox for the next President of the United States. This is especially significant in view of the fact that Senator Harding and the Republican National Committee has made some sort of effort to line up the actors by specious promises of special privileges for the stage industry.

Covelskie Turns in Third Win of Flag Race Against Grimes

In 7th Contest

Cleveland, Oct. 15.—The supple right arm of Stanley-Covelskie pitched the Cleveland Indians into the baseball championship of the world at League Park Tuesday afternoon when the accomplished Polander humiliated Brooklyn in a 3 to 0 shutout. It was the third victory for Speaker's pitching master and the fifth for Cleveland.

An overjoyed crowd of nearly 23,000 fans blazed into hysterical excitement when the game was over, and Cleveland realized at last the baseball ambition of two score years.

Happy men and youths and hundreds of women fans who were just as happy, swarmed onto the field and basked in front of the box of Sunny Jim Dunn, the owner of the club which put the Forest City on the baseball map.

The air was filled with deafening shouts and cheers as the curly, white head of Squire Charley Ebbets made his way through the crowd to Sunny Jim's box. The hand of Ebbets grasped the hand of Dunn and congratulated him on his victory.

Fans Are Joy Crazed

The joy-crazed fans filled the streets and hotels tonight with loud praises of Tris Speaker and his ballplayers.

This city is rich in baseball lore on his baseball diamond. Fans of the past have seen such players as Jim McCormick, Jack Glascock, Nig Cuppy and Charley Zimmer.

Here was the stamping ground of Jimmy McAleer and Patsy Tebeau, of Jess Burkett and the famous Sockalexis, the Babe Ruth of a bygone day.

The matchless Lajoie ever brings back the name of Cleveland when his name is mentioned, and in the big gathering this afternoon were the sons and grandsons of the fans who used to cheer the playing of Cupid Childs.

It was in this hotbed of baseball that Covelskie brought victory to Cleveland today. In winning his third game of the world's series against the Robins, the Polish impresario of the spit-ball takes his place with the great fingers of the past who have won a trio of games.

LIFE STORY OF GOVERNOR COX

Born and reared on an Ohio farm. Earned his first money as janitor of the church of which he is still a member. Was a great reader and always knew his lessons at school. At 15, went to Middletown to high school, working his way as printer's devil in a newspaper office. Taught school for several years and did newspaper work. Was Congressman Sorg's secretary.

Bought the Dayton News. Elected to Congress in 1908; served two terms. In 1912 was elected Governor. Defeated for Governor in 1914, but reelected in 1916 and again in 1918.

In Congress was one of those who destroyed Cannonism; made a distinguished record on Appropriation Committee for economy; was active in tariff reduction, and was a redoubtable fighter for the rights of the people against great corporate interests.

His record as Governor stamps him as a great progressive. More constructive progressive legislation was enacted under his leadership than ever before in Ohio's history. This record includes workmen's compensation; State taxation reform which reduced taxes; school legislation, especially for the benefit of country schools; good roads; child welfare; agricultural legislation and the budget system for the State. His record is one of progressive achievement.

TAKE NOTICE

I From a statement by Senator Harding, published last week.

"I am delighted with what Senator Borah has said, and anything he may say during the campaign."

II

From an interview with Senator Borah, published Tuesday morning: "Senator Harding has heard me discuss the matter (the League of Nations issue) for the last eighteen months, and he ought to understand my position thoroughly. I am opposed to any association, combination, society or league of nations."

III

From a statement issued from "Harding Headquarters" at Marion Tuesday afternoon:

"Senator Harding already has declared that Senator Borah's declarations in campaign speeches met with his approval and he renewed his prediction today that throughout the remainder of the campaign he and Mr. Borah would be found speaking in accord."

IV

It does look, for the present at least, that it should no longer be impossible to ascertain Senator Harding's position on the League of Nations. The curious, however, should not address their inquiries to Senator Harding, but to Senator Borah, the ablest and bitterest of the Bitterenders.

HARVEST SCHOOL FAIR

(Top One Present)
On Oct. 15, the Fordsville Fair opened with a big parade of children and teachers from various schools surrounding the grade and High Schools of the Fordsville Academy. A tractor demonstration and a point advertisement won the prize for advertising. The first day was taken up by the parade and visitors, while the second day was given to some of the athletic displays and judging of exhibits.

Fordsville and the surrounding country turned out in wagons, buggies, on foot and in autos. The town was full to running. The displays were numerous and of good quality. Unfortunately there is no list of winners, but the town reports the promoters are to be congratulated. They are to be congratulated and the exhibitors for their displays whether they won or lost. It is not the fact that one wins or loses which makes the fair of value or important the spirit in which people take part.

Some of the most noteworthy exhibits were a wonderful display by the Providence Baptist Church, some extra quality butter, many work, cakes, pies, fruits, and vegetables. Boys, we want to say that when you want a wife go to the Fordsville Fair. There were several head of fine cattle some fine hogs and also many fine chickens. To make a long story short, the fair was a great success and a fine large community spirit of humanness that we are glad we live in Ohio County.

RED CROSS SPEAKING

Mrs. Agnes Agne, of Lake Division Headquarters, American Red Cross, Cleveland, O., who was in the Winter Palace at Petrograd on Aug. 22, 1918, the day the Czar's release from the former German Kaiser's confinement of war was read, will speak at a meeting of Ohio County Chapter, American Red Cross, at Marlboro, Friday October 22.

Mrs. Agne's experiences abroad during the war, culminating in his escape from Turkey as a refugee in 1915, to an unusual degree in his present work of explaining to the people of Lake Division what the Red Cross means to the suffering populations of the near East.

In his address here Mr. Agne will tell of some of the pressing tasks faced by the Red Cross in entering into its peace program. He will impress upon the members of Ohio County Chapter the vital part the March 12th Call, which begins Saturday, November 11, will play in the plans of the Red Cross.

One hundred members is the goal of Ohio County Chapter in the March 12th Call. The quota was fixed by Mr. E. Dickson, Roll Call Manager, Lake Division, as part of the 1,000,000 total sought in the three states of the division—Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana.

There is no greater cause today than that of the Red Cross. Tremendous work is being done both abroad and at home, including Home Service among the families of our soldiers and sailors; care of thousands of sailors and sailors in hospitals and elsewhere; development of the Junior Red Cross; organization of Red Cross in communities where there is an imperative need for maintenance of the Disaster Relief Service, as well known in Kentucky.

OWENSBORO,

IMPRESSIONS OF THE ORIENT

(By McHENRY HOLBROOK)

Kobe, Japan, Sept. 15, 1920.

The Editor, Hartford Herald.

Dear Sir:—Replies to your favor of July 30th, I am pleased to say that, despite the uncertainty of mails in this country, I get the Herald with commendable regularity and it is greatly enjoyed by both my wife and myself. I can assure you that whatever complaints Americans at home may make as regards poor mail service, and however much they may be justified in some cases, they are indeed fortunate in comparison with the service here. In one case I was twenty-eight days getting a letter from Yokohama, which is only a night's journey from Kobe.

You ask me to write you something regarding the climate, customs etc. in the Orient. My impressions are somewhat dulled by now but if you think anything in this letter of general interest to your subscribers you are quite at liberty to publish same.

The first Oriental country I visited after my last trip home, was the Philippine Islands, the country in which I have spent the most time and which I like best.

Manila is more like an American city than any place I have visited, there are many modern business buildings, largely similar to what we have at home. There are also many old Spanish type buildings still in use, with thick walls and large airy rooms. Business is carried on with more hustle and speed than in either China or Japan. The native residences are usually constructed of nipa and bamboo, roof and walls of nipa, which are a species of palm leaves, and the floor and framework of bamboo. Small sides in both and I believe being split and the round side qualified to express a reasonably unbiased opinion, I would depose that both win.

The customs, people etc. are much the same as in Manila. Cock fighting is, as everywhere else, the favorite diversion.

During 1918 I spent about 6 weeks in Hongkong and Canton during which time I visited Macao, the Portuguese settlement close to Hongkong. Macao is an old world town less oriental than any place out here, being chiefly noted for its opium trade. While there I tried the famous Chinese gambling game of fan tan. The game itself is of little interest except for gambling purposes. Since I lost $5 even that feature didn't appeal to me.

Canton is a very interesting city, particularly the old native city. The foreigners live on The Shameen which is an island in the river and connected with the native city by bridges. The one outstanding feature to me of Canton was the heat; without a doubt even the Cebu and Manila partisans would admit with little argument after a sojourn in Canton during the summer, that Hades would have nothing on it for heat and that Cebu and Manila are far outclassed as places of preparation for the hereafter.

The climate in the Philippines is hot the whole year, the only difference being sometimes it is hotter and drier, and sometimes hotter and wetter. The nights are cool, however, so one can usually sleep.

All the time I was in the P. I. I never had to sleep under a fan.

While I was in the P. I. I spent some four months in Cebu which is on the island of Cebu in the South ern Islands, and is one of the chief ports of the Philippines. It is only eight degrees from the equator and one of the favorite arguments between residents of Manila and Cebu which is the hotter. Having related on with more hustle and speed than in either China or Japan. The native residences are usually constructed of nipa and bamboo, roof and walls of nipa, which are a species of palm leaves, and the floor and framework of bamboo. Small sides in both and I believe being split and the round side qualified to express a reasonably by men on poles across their shoulders.

After leaving China I was two months in the Philippines and was then shifted to Yokohama Japan where I remained for about 9 months and then came down to Kobe where I have been ever since.

The climate here is much the same as at home, except not so hot in the summer, or so cold in the winter, however one feels both heat and cold more than at home because of the greater humidity.

While in Yokohama I lived in a foreign style house, but since being in Kobe have lived in a Japanese house furnished in foreign style, the furniture being made of bamboo and wicker. I suppose if it came to a pinch I could sleep on the floor sit on the floor, eat with chopsticks, wear kimonos and even take Japanese baths, but I draw the line at eating raw fish and similar delicacies contained in the Japanese menu. I might add I am going rather far when I say I could take a Japanese bath, because I object to being parboiled while yet alive.

Second I prefer not to spend more than an hour in my bath. Third, I am democratic enough, but I object to taking said bath at the same time, as the whole household, or AFTER the household. If I could always have mine FIRST I wouldn't object, but you see visitors have the first chance.

Perhaps I had better explain the bath and bathing etiquette in Japan. There are two kinds of baths public and private, but the requisite of both is that the water must be scalding hot. In a public bath men, women and children all diverse in at once; in a private one they all dive in one after the other.

First come any visitors, then the master of the house, after he finishes, the mistress, and then in other way at home. Heavy bundles of age the children, and last are carried by women, as well as of all the servants. Theoretically each one is supposed to take a small bucket of water and wash the dirt off prior to getting in the tub, but theory and practice don't walk hand in hand.

The bath we had in our Yokohama house was a wooden affair about five feet long three feet deep and three feet wide, with the stove for heating the water in one end. The foreign bather lowers himself or herself carefully into the water (we after much argument convinced our servants we didn't desire to be scalded entirely) and then jiggles his feet in such a manner as to burn them on the stove. After burning his feet well he considers his bath finished successfully.

The bath in our present house is on an entirely different plan, it is just like a large iron kettle for scalding hogs, sunken in concrete. The tub or kettle is filled with water and then the fire is built underneath. The method of bathing in this style tub is much the same as in the wooden one, except more difficult. There is supposed to be a board in the bottom of the kettle to keep from burning the feet, but on several memorable occasions, when I was bathing the board was missing.

I will take up the subject of baths at greater length in a ten volume book, I contemplate writing on "Bathing in the Orient" and will bring this over long epistle to an abrupt close.

With best wishes for the Herald and yourself.

Yours very truly,

MCHENRY HOLBROOK.
